

Counselor Recommendation Supplement

The following questions should be completed if your counselor is writing a recommendation letter. Answers will be maintained confidential.

If your friends were asked to describe you, what would they say and why?

Is your high school record an accurate measure of your ability and potential? Yes No
If not, what would you consider the best measure of your potential success in college work?

What circumstances, if any, have interfered with your grades or test scores?

Has any summer experience, work, travel, or study been of significant importance to you? Please describe.

What do you consider your greatest strengths? If possible, give an example of when you had to tap into your strengths to help you achieve a goal.

What do you consider your greatest limitations? How have you worked to overcome these limitations?

What are your proudest academic accomplishments?

What has been your most rewarding personal experience?

What are your interests and hobbies?

What extracurricular activity has been the most meaningful to you? Why?
